

JAMESTOWN A BLAZE OF LIGHTS AT NIGHT

Exposition, Now on the Home Stretch, Presents a Beautiful Scene.

FINE LIGHTING EFFECTS

Brilliant Results Are Obtained in Electric Ornamentation of the Grounds and Buildings.

JAMESTOWN EXPOSITION, November 3.—On the home stretch, the last thirty days of the exposition bids fair to eclipse any of the former periods in the signal beauty of the show, as seen in the bright, Indian summer weather that may be expected from now to Thanksgiving in Virginia.

The same cool wind which drives one in to an open fire after dark gives a zest in the night to the energetic sightseeing and to the enjoyment of both land and water pleasures so abundantly afforded about the Exposition grounds.

But few weeks now remain in which the thousands of nearby people in the Virginias and Carolinas—who have not yet viewed the completed exposition may do so.

View From Pier.

After seeing the exposition from every point of view, those who know it best have come to believe that it can be best seen in its architectural completeness and symmetry from the arch of the Government Pier. Here one gets the perspective across a stretch of shimmering water, and with one sweep of the eye may take in the main group of buildings, the Auditorium, the Government Building, and the Government Buildings, with Education and History to either side. The various commercial exhibit buildings do not appear in the group, being tucked on the side, but the whole group facing the water, stretching for a half mile or more, are of permanent, heavy construction, and many of them, built of brick and slate, will stand for generations.

The time to get the most weird and picturesque view of the exposition is at 6 in the evening, when the lights come on, and in the clear November air one needs to be well wrapped up against the wind which whistles in the capes as the night closes in.

When the Lights Come On.

If one reaches the arch on the government pier just before 6 o'clock the darkness has already closed in and the grounds are twinkling with lights. On the first stroke of 6 these rows of road lights go on and for an instant the grounds are in darkness. Then on every building a fine streak of faint light becomes visible, every angle and roof tree of the great buildings being followed by a weird faint line of lights, which in the dark, the pier itself, as being seen in a mirror. As the clock strikes 6 the lights seem to increase on each stroke, until on the final stroke the whole expanse of the exposition grounds and every building from tower to foundation is ablaze with myriads of electric bulbs.

The sight is one worth going miles to see, especially when a moment later the fountain in front of the Auditorium opens up in its various colors and shapes.

And then from the centre of the group of buildings eight great searchlights point out toward the sky. Before one can realize that the pier itself is ablaze with light, its columns reflecting over the water for a long distance, almost to where in the darkness it meets with the lights from the battlements at anchor.

To the right the great clock tower in Pennsylvania State Building stands glowing in lights to its very top, every ornamental cornice having its row of electric bulbs.

Virginia railroads are offering special inducements for travel to the exposition during the closing weeks, and while the colder weather will no doubt cut off much of the Northern and Western travel, the local patronage will continue at the exposition until the end.

HALLOWE'EN PARTY

Girls of Stonewall Jackson Institute Give Private Theatricals.

ABINGDON, Va., November 3.—The Halloween entertainment by the Alpha Beta Phi Society of Stonewall Jackson Institute, Friday evening, was a most successful affair. All the numbers on the program (which was bewitched by the reversal of the printing, so as to read from right to left) were well rendered, whether musical or in the school of expression.

The final number, "Witching Time, or, as printed, 'Emt' Glnchtw," introduced a bevy of fair (?) witches, who, after incantations, recited a witch dance, which they wore fireworks which cast a weird, uncanny light upon the darkened stage. At its close the witches fell all to the teachers and to members of the other society, or Gamma Delta, illustrated horoscopes or biographical sketches and prophecies, which were prepared with rare taste, and in many cases, humor. And so the entertainment closed with mirth and laughter.

On Thursday the faculty and students of Martha Washington College gave a Halloween reception, which was largely attended by persons of the town and by students from Emory and Henry College.

CHRYSANTHEMUM SHOW

Pretty Flowers, Fine Fancy Work and Excellent Music.

WAYNESBORO, Va., November 3.—The second annual chrysanthemum show and ladies' fancy work exhibit, held by the Ladies Aid Society of the Waynesboro Presbyterian Church, closed Friday evening, after two days of unprecedented crowds. It is estimated that there were over a thousand visitors to the show, many coming a great distance.

These exhibits are always looked forward to with great interest as a social function, as well as a time for a great deal of merriment and the flowers, too.

The exhibit was held in the Brunswick Inn, which was tastefully decorated with the "Flowers School" colors, garnets and gold. Competent critics say that never was a finer or more beautiful collection of flowers brought together than those gathered here by the several premiums offered in the different classes. Especially fine were those exhibited by Mrs. John Plumb and Mrs. M. B. Ellis, their flowers carrying off most of the premiums.

Mrs. R. H. Vance, as chairman, proved her ability to manage, and by constant and untiring efforts succeeded in making the exhibit the great success it was. Mrs. Kelly, chairman of flowers, and Mrs. Nettie Caldwell, chairman of fancy work, both deserve praise for the excellent exhibits in their departments. Mrs. Sterrett, as chairman of refreshments, brought joy to all by the excellent menus prepared under her supervision.

The future of the last day of the show was the excellent music furnished by the orchestra from the State Deaf, Dumb and Blind Institution, of Staunton. Under the skillful direction of Professor Beardsley, several of the pupils have attained such skill as would cause any one to envy them, and would seem impossible for them to attain.

As a financial venture the show was a complete success, and such as to warrant its continuance again next year.

THE NEWS OF WAKEFIELD

Man Has Hand Injured in Peanut Thresher—Personal Items.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

WAKEFIELD, Va., November 3.—William Holman, a colored man, while working at a peanut thresher on Thursday morning for Mr. C. R. Bailey, had his hand caught in the machine, mauling it very badly. The hand was amputated the following day by Dr. Henderson, assisted by Dr. J. S. Gale, of York.

Miss Daisy Chalmers, who has been visiting here, has returned to her home in Farmville.

The body of Miss Nicholson, daughter of the late Dr. Samuel Nicholson, of this place, was brought here last Wednesday from Williamsburg to be interred in the family burying ground.

Miss Mamie Boothe, who has been sick for the past week, is much improved.

Ghostly figures paraded the streets of our town on Halloween's night, leaving their cards at many doors.

Dr. B. F. Lipscomb, presiding elder of this district, was the guest of Rev. R. S. Baugh, of Thursday.

Mrs. E. A. Hatch left for Richmond this morning.

The Cheerful Helpers' Society of the Baptist Church gave an oyster supper on Friday night for the benefit of the school.

Rapid progress is being made in the erection of our new $10,000 High School building, which will be ready for use by January 15. The school is being built on the corner of Railroad and Booth streets.

Mr. Montague Gay is to soon open a skating rink on Wilson Avenue.

A new river has recently been opened by Messrs. McCauley & Booth, near the corner of Railroad and Booth streets.

VISITING MATHEWS FRIENDS

Mrs. Lloyd at "Woodstock"—Death of Miss Garnett in Baltimore.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

PORT HAYWOOD, Va., November 3.—Mrs. Lloyd, wife of Rev. John J. Lloyd, D. D., has just visited her relatives at "Woodstock," and is now with another branch of her family at the school, Gloucester county. Her daughter, Miss Lillian Lloyd, is now in Paris continuing her art studies. Great success is predicted for her, as she inherits much talent from her distinguished grandfather, the late celebrated artist, W. J. Hubbard, of Richmond.

Many "friends" of the Garnett family will learn with regret of the death in Baltimore of Miss Virginia Garnett. She was a lady of unusual intelligence and piety, and has borne her prolonged suffering with patience and submission. Her remains, accompanied by a large number of friends, were taken to Richmond and laid in the section of her late brother, Dr. Jenifer Garnett. Judge Garnett, of this county, is a brother of the deceased.

THE BANK SOLVENT

Portsmouth Institution Expected to Resume Business Soon.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

NORFOLK, Va., November 3.—Because of the great amount of interest always occasioned by a banking institution closing its doors, there has been no excitement as a result of the Peoples' Bank of Portsmouth, suspending business through the fact that it could not secure sufficient cash at the time to meet an unusually heavy run of creditors.

The bank is believed absolutely solvent, with a credit that cannot be questioned, and the depositors are calmly waiting the time for the institution to resume business. Nobody doubts that every depositor will receive dollar for dollar, and the slight financial storm is expected to blow over within a few days.

SHOF AND WIFE JAILED

Charged With Cruelty in Treatment of Young Girl.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

LEXINGTON, N. C., November 3.—The man Shof and his wife, who are charged with cruelly treating the four-year-old daughter of Mr. Fields, were brought here from Thomasville this afternoon and placed in jail. It is said gangrene has set in, and the child's death is a matter of a short time. Feeling in Thomasville is high, and there is some talk of violence.

Florida Midwinter Exposition.

MEETINGS OF WOMEN FEATURE THIS WEEK

Daughters of Confederacy and Council of Jewish Women Gather at Jamestown.

HAVE MANY NOTABLE VISITORS

Social and Other Features of the Gathering—Have a Civic Institute.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

JAMESTOWN EXPOSITION, November 3.—Women will predominate among the meetings to be held here this week. Both the United Daughters of the Confederacy and the National Council of Jewish Women will be in annual convention. Both organizations will bring many well-known women here.

The program for the National Council of Jewish Women has been arranged. Many prominent members of that organization will deliver speeches and join in the discussions of the convention. Among those who are assigned prominent parts on the program are Mrs. Hugo Rosenberg, of Pittsburgh, president of the organization; Mrs. Kate Walker Barrett, of Washington, vice-president of the National Council of Women and also secretary of the Florence Crittenden Mission; Mrs. Greenwald of Cleveland; Mrs. Martin Barbe, first vice-president of the Council of Jewish Women; Mrs. Raszlander, Mrs. D. E. Levy and Mrs. D. S. Baum, of Norfolk; Mrs. Manders, of Savannah; Mrs. Mack, of Fort Worth, Texas; Miss Gertrude Wise, of New York; Mrs. Enoch Rauh, of Pittsburg; Mrs. Henry Solomon, honorary president. An address will also be delivered by Samuel McCune Lindsay.

The headquarters for delegates and visiting members during the convention will be at the Monticello Hotel. The national council's headquarters will be at the Fairfax Hotel, and the meetings will be held at the Fairfax, at the Auditorium, Jamestown Exposition Grounds, and at Obeh Shalom Temple, in Freemason Street, Norfolk.

TO ERECT MEMORIAL TO LATE DR. LECATO

Movement in Accommodate to Honor the Memory of Well-Known Physician.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

ONANCOCK, Va., November 3.—A movement looking to the erection of a monument in memory of Dr. George W. Lecato, who represented Accomack and Northumberland in the Senate of Virginia several terms, has been started, and is now in the hands of prominent citizens in different sections of the two counties. His home, Wachapreague, is suggested as the proper location.

A private bank has been organized at New Church, in Northern Accomack, and is now open for business. The county has four national and nine private banks.

The Baptist Church at the courthouse will soon be remodeled and enlarged, and an entire new building erected. The matter is now being considered by a committee named for that purpose.

Land still commands high figures, and shows an advancing tendency. A tract of 225 acres near Cooksley, divided into six parcels, sold this week at public auction for $26,297. The tract on the tract was sold last year for $7,000.

In a fuss over a game of crap near Savageville, Gilbert Snead, colored, shot and instantly killed William Phillips, also colored. Snead has been arrested and is in jail.

The regular term of the Circuit Court begins Monday next. It is grand jury term, and the docket is a large one.

Hon. N. B. Weacott, who represented this county in the late Constitutional Convention, has returned from a six-months' trip to Europe greatly improved in health.

Mr. Frank T. Hoskey, a prominent business man and widely known citizen of Keller, is dead, aged sixty-seven. He was stricken with paralysis Wednesday last, from which he only partially rallied.

CHEER THE VANQUISHED

University Football Team Receives a Reception.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va., November 3.—Notwithstanding its defeat at the hands of Sewanee in Norfolk yesterday, the Virginia team received a rousing welcome upon its return to-night. Over half the student body marched to the station, headed by Cheer Leader Williamson. When the team arrived such of the players as could not escape the attention of the crowd were carried on the shoulders of their enthusiastic friends to a tallyho, which stood near decked in orange and blue. In this the players were drawn in triumph, with cheers and songs, to the university. There college songs and yells were given for the team. This was all in strange contrast after Virginia's victory over North Carolina a week earlier. Last Sunday only a handful of students were at the depot to greet the squad.

DANVILLE PYTHIANS

Phoenix Lodge Holds Memorial Services—Dr. Dickerson Speaker.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

DANVILLE, Va., November 3.—The memorial exercises of Phoenix Lodge of Pythians, of this city, was held this afternoon at the Academy of Music in the presence of a large gathering of people. Mayor Harry Woodard, chancellor of the local lodge, acted as master of ceremonies. The address of the evening was delivered by Rev. W. H. Dickerson, of Richmond, grand chancellor of the State Lodge, who spoke on the subject of Pythianism, the eulogy on the departed members of the local lodge was delivered by Colonel George C. Cabell, past grand chancellor of Norfolk.

SPOOKS VISIT RECTOR'S HOUSE

C. O. D. Club Give Halloween Party at Home of Rev. Chiswell Dabney.

CELEBRATE DOUBLE WEDDING

The Misses Miller Married to Mr. Dunham and Mr. Warden.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

CHATHAM, Va., November 3.—The C. O. D. Club entertained with a Halloween party at the home of Rev. Chiswell Dabney Friday night. The home was decorated to represent the dwelling place of the spooks and the pumpkin lanterns suspended gave the appearance of the victims that had been so unfortunate as to fall a prey to the much-dreaded beings. The spooks began to arrive at an early hour and in a short time the rooms were alive with moving beings attired in white. After a short while the spooky disguise was removed and fortune telling with numerous other amusements were enjoyed for some time. Delicious refreshments were served in abundance.

The regular October term of Pittsylvania County Circuit Court adjourned Friday. Several chancery cases were disposed of and the following jury cases: J. E. Pugh vs. Southern Railway Company, verdict for the defendant; Ward Lumber Company vs. Southern Railway Company, verdict for the defendant; Geo. C. Parsons vs. Lanofer, verdict for the plaintiff; J. H. Vaden, continued until the December term; J. H. Vaden vs. Norton vs. Vaden, continued until the December term. Auditor was granted license to distill liquor near Riverview. This applicant was refused license at the April term.

A double wedding was celebrated at the home of Rev. W. D. Barr Thursday forenoon, the contracting parties being Miss Nannie Miller and Mr. James Dunham and Miss Alice Miller and Mr. Oliver Warden, Jr. The couples arrived from Hurt on the morning train and, after obtaining the necessary legal documents, proceeded to the home of Rev. Barr, who performed the ceremony in the presence of a small party. The couples then spent the time waiting for the afternoon train in talking in the place. The brides are daughters of a Pittsylvania farmer, residing near Hurt, and attractive young ladies. The grooms are from Illinois, and at present are employed on the railway construction work now underway at Hurt.

Mr. J. H. Bolanz, after several days confinement with a bad cold, is out.

Miss Hart, of Clover, is visiting Miss Mamie Petty.

Mr. W. S. Fitzpatrick, of Bedford City, is visiting relatives.

Mr. R. M. Goolsby, of Danville, is visiting his mother and sisters.

Mrs. S. G. Bennett has been sick for several days with malaria.

SENIOR CLASS AT WAKE FOREST

Class Orations Took Place Saturday Before a Large Audience.

MANY EXCELLENT ADDRESSES

Reception Held After Speaking in the Halls of the Societies.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

WAKE FOREST, N. C., November 3.—The senior speaking, which was postponed from October 20th, took place last night in the Wingate Memorial Hall. A large and enthusiastic crowd was assembled for the purpose of hearing the orators of the class of '08, and in no respect were they disappointed. The speeches were especially good, showing thoughtful research and careful preparation, and many favorable comments have been spoken since the meeting.

Dr. W. L. Poteat introduced the speakers, presenting first Mr. H. H. McMillan, of Scotland county, and a member of the Philomathean Society. Mr. McMillan's subject was "Effects of Civilization," and he discussed it in an able manner, showing that by the effects of civilization man suffers both physically and mentally and proving that civilization in its effects might be as liable to defects as to the mistaken idea concerning their perfection.

Mr. F. D. King, of Union county, Ezellian Society, was the next speaker. His subject was "Trend of American Life." He developed the moral side of the question, and in his earnest and impressive style made one of the best speeches of the evening.

Following Mr. King, Mr. J. F. Justice, of Sussex county, Philomathean Society, spoke on "Centralization, the Problem of American Democracy." Mr. Justice is a great student of history and political science, and in his speech he showed that he was well acquainted with the principles of government, and that he had worked up his discourse after many hours of hard study.

The last speaker of the evening was W. D. Little, of Union county, Ezellian Society, who spoke on "The Race Problems of the North," showing some of the questions that our Northern brothers are confronted with, regarding the foreigners. He showed much preparation and displayed great skill in using the data that he had collected.

After the speeches were over the crowd retired to the society halls, where an informal reception was held by the senior class. Every one enjoyed the evening, and went away singing the praises of the senior class.

FELL OUT OF WINDOW

Labor Agent, While Drunken, Falls From Window and Is Killed.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

ROANOKE, Va., November 3.—W. Martin, a labor agent, fell out of a third story window of Bachrach's hotel to-day, and died an hour later from a crushed skull. Martin had been drinking, and it is supposed that he was under the influence of liquor when he fell. He was a native of Montgomery county, fifty years old and unmarried.

Will Stephens, a negro from Danville, got into a quarrel with John Lewis, a Roanoke negro, last night, and stabbed him. Lewis died to-day and the murderer has escaped.

WINSTON-SALEM SALES

Over 3,000,000 Pounds Sold, and at Very Fine Prices.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

WINSTON-SALEM, N. C., November 3.—Mr. Z. T. Bynum, supervisor of sales, yesterday completed the report for the month of October. This report shows that during the month 3,152,414 pounds of leaf were sold on the local market, and the growers received for it the net sum of $33,965.23, or an average of 10.76 cents per hundred. This is the highest average for an entire month in the past ten years.

Breaks this week have been quite large, considering the unseasonable weather and the fact that the banks are out of cash, but issue sixty-day certificates in payment for the week. The average farmer accepts this proposition in good faith. "Give us the worth of our tobacco, and there will be no sick crains," is a cry of sixty days. It is the sentiment expressed by the farmers who are marketing their weed here. The bankers are inclined to the opinion that the present financial troubles will be a thing of the past within a few weeks.

Married Women

Every woman covets a shapely, pretty figure, and many of them deplore the loss of their girlish forms after marriage. The bearing of children is often destructive to the mother's shapeliness. All of this can be avoided, however, by the use of Mother's Friend before baby comes, as this great liniment always prepares the body for the strain upon it, and preserves the symmetry of her form. Mother's Friend overcomes all the danger of child-birth, and carries the expectant mother safely through this critical period without pain. It is woman's greatest blessing. Thousands gratefully tell of the benefit and relief derived from the use of this wonderful remedy. Sold by all druggists at $1.00 per bottle. Our little book, telling all about this liniment, will be sent free.
